

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

This edition is greatly enlarged, the whole of the third volume being added. This translation was made by the author himself. The work is highly recommended in two letters, by way of introduction, from M. de Lacretelle. Boucher de la Richarderie says that the author had been so long unaccustomed to his native language that his translation abounds with Anglicisms, "which, however," he adds, "give greater energy to his expressions."

CREVECŒUR Letters from an American Farmer; Describing Certain Provincial Situations, Manners, and Customs, not generally known; and conveying some Idea of the late and present Interior Circumstances of the British Colonies in North America. "The author was a native of Normandy, of noble birth, and came to the British colonies at the age of sixteen. Having established himself on a farm near the frontier, he became one of the first victims of the War of Independence, the Indian allies of Great Britain setting fire to and destroying his property. He wrote his letters during the different epochs of the war, in English. Returning to France, he translated them into French." — RICH. His work "is a most pleasing report of the resources and charms of the country when it was far more isolated and exclusively rural than at present. Somewhat like a prose idyl is this record; Hazlitt delighted in its naïve enthusiasm, and commended it to Charles Lamb, as well as in the 'Quarterly,' as giving an idea how American scenery and manners may be treated with a lively poetic interest. — TUCKERMAN'S America and her Commentators.

There are some copies on large paper, with the plates in folio. Though called a translation, this is believed to be an original work by M. de Crevecœur, whose initials only appear at the end of the dedication to Washington. The author spent nearly a quarter of a century in America, saw Washington, in 1774, come to the first Congress fresh from his farm, witnessed his extraordinary career, and, in 1797, saw him retire to the private life of an agriculturist. His experience, therefore, enables him to give much information and personal gossip not readily found elsewhere. The portrait of Washington in the first volume is an interesting one, "Gravé d'après le Camée peint par Madame Bréhan à Newyork en 1789." There is also a fine portrait of Keskétomah, an Onondagua sachem, and of Koohassen, an Oneida warrior. "This work is distinguished by its valuable details on the aboriginal tribes, and their gradual disappearance. No other writer has so well described the Indian great councils, or assemblies, where they deliberate on their public interests." See "M. Rev.," xxxvi. 449.

"A periodical published weekly, commencing January 4, 1775, and continued to June 8th, 1776. The work, which is of great rarity, contains a remarkable collection of papers attacking the ministry and the British government in terms of the greatest severity. Indeed, one can hardly believe that, in time of war, a publication of such a character would be tolerated. In the opening address to the people of England and America, the publisher says, 'It is in your defence I now unsheath the sword of justice, to oppose the most profligate and abandoned administration that ever shewed the weakness, or abused the confidence of a prince.' — 'The altar of despotism is erected in America, and we shall be the next victims to a lawless power.' In taking leave of their readers in the 90th number, the publisher says, 'We now lay down this paper, with grateful thanks to the public, and as liberty and virtue have taken their flight to America, the only asylum for freemen, we are determined to follow, and not longer struggle in vain to animate our dastardly, degenerate countrymen with the noble spirit of their forefathers.' — J. R. BARTLETT. A manuscript note in a copy I have seen, states that, "By order of a vote of the House of Commons, burnt by the common hangman." In one of Welford's catalogues, there are said to be ninety-eight numbers, the last being dated, Oct. 12. 1776. It was reprinted, in part, as below :

Towards the end of the volume, Cubero describes his experiences of the New World, to which he voyaged from the Philippine Islands. " Cubero est le premier qui ait fait le tour du monde d'Occident en Orient, et en partie par terre, ainsi que l'exécuta depuis Gemelli Carreri. Il ne décrit pas minutieusement sa route; il se contente de donner un aperçu général de ce qu'il a observé. Il peint avec exactitude les steppes d'As-tracan et les déserts de la Perse; il donne beaucoup de détails sur Manille et sur différents personnages, avec lesquelles il s'est trouvé, &c. ... Il écrit avec la simplicité qui convient à un missionnaire, mais il est un peu crédule." — Biog. Univ. Colonel Stanley's copy sold for £6 6s. A copy sold for £1 5s. at Puttick's, in 1860.

Rich had a copy, with plates on India paper.

"This celebrated performance is said to have been written, printed, and liberally distributed both in Great Britain and America, at the instance and expense of government; but whether this be true or not, the work itself, we are afraid, will answer no other purpose than to exasperate the people of Great Britain against their brethren of America; and, by inflaming misrepresentations and invectives, aggravate the evils of our present civil discord."—Monthly Review. Illustrated with Maps and Draughts: Also several Birds, Fishes, and Plants, not found in this part of the World: Curiously Engraven on Copper-Plates. London: Printed for James and John Knapton, at the Crown in St. Paul's Church-yard. MDCCXXIX. 4 vols., 8vo, 5 l., pp. vi, 550, Books, 2 l.; 4 l., pp. 184, 132, 112, Index, 38 l.; 8 l., pp. 463, (13); 8 l., pp. 208, 175, (9). Maps and Plates. H. 18373

"This is generally considered the best edition of Dampier's voyages, though it contains much that Dampier not only had no hand in writing, but against which he protested. The truth appears to be that he was at the mercy of his publisher, Knapton, who used Dampier's saleable volumes as mules for carrying off his unsaleable stock. Vols. I. and II. of this edition are reprints of the earlier editions, page for page, and with the same plates and maps, except that in the first volume, the publisher has suppressed Dampier's Dedication to Charles Mountague, President of the Royal Society, to make room for a second title, 'A New Voyage round the World,' etc. 'The Seventh Edition Corrected,' which here occupies A 2. Vol. III. is a reprint of Dampier's third volume, described below (No. 18376), but in a broader page, and paged continuously. It has eight preliminary leaves, and the text is paged 1 to 260, including the index. The plates are the same as in the previous editions. Beyond this Dampier had nothing to do with the work. The remaining half of this third volume consists of a reprint of Wafer's voyage, which is here called The Third Edition. It contains title and pp. 263 to 463, followed by 9 pp. of index. The map and the three plates are the same as in the first and second editions, published also by Knapton in 1699 and 1704. Vol. IV. contains Funnell's voyage, exactly as described, infra, with a new title, thus working in bodily the remainder of the edition of 1707, against which Dampier protested. To this are added reprints of Cowley's, Sharp's, Wood's, and Roberts' voyages, filling 175 pp. and 6 pp. of index, with 5 maps. In some copies, however, Funnell's voyage is reprinted with the same maps and plates, but in a closer type, it being in 8 p. l., 208 pp. of text, with 8 pp. of index. With these facts in view, it seems to the writer that it is better to have Dampier undefiled, and therefore the best editions of Dampier are his three volumes as originally published. Then let the other works by Funnell, Wafer, Sharp, etc., stand on their own merits, in their own editions, under their own names." — STEVENS.

The date is erroneously printed 2707. "In this vindication, which does not occupy more than a single sheet, Dampier points out several misrepresentations made by Funnell, and accuses him of having pirated from charts and papers with which he had been intrusted, but of which Dampier says, he afterwards rendered a very slender account, pretending that some of them were lost."—BURNET.

DAMPIER. The Voyages and Adventures of Capt. William Dampier. J.C.B. 18379

The editor remarks: "The first edition of Dampier's voyages was published by himself, but not in the same order they were performed, which has a little perplexed the narrative; the language is now partly become obsolete, which renders the perusal more difficult to common readers; and the edition is now also extremely scarce. To remedy these inconveniences, the chronological order wherein the series of events happened is observed in this edition."

Are to be sold by Hez. Usher at Boston.* 1647.| 16mo, pp. 16, including Title. G.B. 18473

Title-page with a type metal border of full moons and half moons. This is the almanac quoted by Savage, Winthrop's "History of N. E.," II. 379 (edition of 1853). It is probably the earliest American almanac extant. It is of special interest in the annals of American printing, as having the imprint of Mathew Day, no other book having been discovered in which the name appears. Thomas does not mention him. He was a brother of Stephen Day, the first printer, and probably conducted the press during the imprisonment and disgrace of the latter. (See "Mass. Records," 7th Sept., 1643.) Mathew Day was a man of some estate, as appears by his will and inventory ("Gen. Reg.," III. 181), while "Stephen," says Savage, "appears to have been unthrifty." Danforth's almanacs of 1648 and 1649, from the same press, are without the name of printer or bookseller, only Printed at Cambridge. The only known copy is in the possession of Mr. George Brinley, of Hartford, Conn.

"This pamphlet is said to be by the Rev. John Higginson of Salem, then aged 92; but the dedication is signed A. H., probably Alex. Holmes, one of the petitioners. It is written with great warmth, and lays open the disputes which existed between Governor Dudley and some leading characters in New England, who opposed his designs, which were to get rid of the charter, and make the government completely arbitrary." — *North Am. The author, defending the East India Company, tries to prove that, "as far as it pleases God to bless this chartered West India Company with similar success," the shareholders will enjoy more profit from the West India Company, and, therefore, invites "all true and wealthy patriots who have not yet subscribed to contribute largely to the New Company."

"An extraordinary volume of considerable historical interest. According to this pious author, Our Lady of Mexico, between 1808 and 1812, seems not only to have taken an active interest in the spiritual welfare of the faithful, but seems to have done her best to thwart the schemes of the rebels and republicans in the various provinces of Mexico. She set her face firmly against the spirit of Mexican independency, and became quite a politician, but always attached to the royal party. The pious political frauds contained in this volume must ever give it a prominent place among the books relating to the history of the Mexican Revolution." — STEVENS.

Bernal Diaz was the companion of Cortes in his adventures and battles. See an interesting note as to the author and his work in Robertson's "America." Prescott and Ticknor each award Diaz great praise; and a writer in the "Athenæum" characterizes the work as "the most trustworthy of the narrators of this conquest." Lowndes has erroneously placed Gomara under Diaz. "The true history of the conquest of Mexico is, indeed, a delightful work, and the only account of that transaction on which we can rely; yet, because it appeared without any of those scandalous puffs which disgrace our presses, and teach our litterati how to think, it mouldered on the shelf." — SOUTHEY.

The text in German, occupies four lines beneath an old block leaf, nine by thirteen inches square, representing the manners and customs of the natives of the northern and eastern coast of South America, as first found by the Portuguese at the end of the fifteenth or beginning of the sixteenth century. It is without date, but was probably printed at Augsburg, or Nuremberg, between the years 1497 and 1504. It is believed to be unique. A facimile of this earliest known xylographic leaf respecting America is given in Steven' "American Bibliographer," Part 1. At Puttick & Simpson's sale, May 24, 1854, this (lot 27) sold for £3 13s. 6d.

DOBBS (A.) An Account Of the Countries adjoining to Hudson's Bay, in the North-west Part of America: containing A Description of the Lakes and Rivers, the Nature of the Soil and Climates, and their Methods of Commerce, &c. Shewing the Benefit to be made by settling Colonies, and opening a Trade in these Parts; whereby the French will be deprived in a great Measure of their Traffick in Furs, and the Communication between Canada and Mississippi be cut off. With An Abstract of Captain Middleton's Journal, and Observations upon his Behaviour during his Voyage, and since his Return. To which are added, I. A Letter from Bartholomew de Fonte, Vice-Admiral of Peru and Mexico; giving an account of his Voyage from Lima to Peru, to prevent, or seize upon any Ships that should attempt to find a North-west Passage to the South Sea. II. An Abstract of all the Discoveries which have been publish'd of the Islands and Countries in and adjoining to the Great Western Ocean, between America, India, and China, &c. pointing out the Advantages that may be made, if a short Passage should be found thro' Hudson's Streight to that Ocean. iii. The Hudson's Bay Company's Charter. iv. The Standard of Trade in those Parts of America; with an Account of the Exports and Profits made annually by the Hudson's Bay Company. v. Vocabularies of the Languages of several Indian Nations adjoining to Hudson's Bay. The whole intended to shew the great Probability of a North-west Passage, so long desired; and which (if discovered) would be of the highest Advantage to these Kingdoms. By Arthur Dobbs, Esq. London: J. Robinson. MDCC XLIV. 4to, Title and Dedication, Title, pp. ii, 211. Map by Joseph La France. BA. 20404

There are copies on large paper. See "N. Am. Rev.," p. 9.

DOBBS. An Epistle to the Hon. Arthur Dobbs, Esq., in Europe, From a Clergyman in America. London: J. Dodsley. 1752. 8vo. 20405

See "M. Rev.," vi. 236. Mr. J. C. Brown, of Providence, has "An Essay upon the Existence of a North-West Passage," 4to, a manuscript of sixty pages in the handwriting of Captain Dobbs. The author reviews the statements made by all those who had navigated the waters of Hudson's and Baffin's Bays, and says, that "by all the journals I have read, of those who have made any considerable progress in northern discoveries, there seems to be strong reasons to believe there is a passage to the north-west of Hudson's Bay."

DOBBS. Remarks upon Capt. Middleton's Defence: Wherein His Conduct during his late Voyage For discovering a Passage from Hudson's-Bay to the South-Sea is impartially Examined; His Neglects and Omissions in that Affair fully Prov'd; The Falsities and Evasions in his Defence Expos'd; The Errors of his Charts laid open, and His Accounts of Currents, Streights, and Rivers, Confuted; Whereby it will appear, with the highest Probability, That there is such a Passage as he went in search of. With An Appendix of Original Papers, and a Map of the In-land and Sea-Coast of North-America in and about Hudson's Bay. By Arthur Dobbs, Esq; London: Jacob Robinson. MDCC XLIV. 8vo, 3 l., pp. 171. Map. P. 20406

Also on large paper.

DOBBS. A Reply to Capt. Middleton's Answer To the Remarks on his Vindication of his Conduct, In a late Voyage made by him in the Furnace Sloop, by Orders of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, to find out a Passage from the North-west of Hudson's Bay, to the Western and Southern Ocean of America. Shewing the Art and Evasions he makes use of to conceal his Mis-conduct and Neglect in prosecuting that Discovery: As Also the false Currents, Tides, Straits, and Rivers he has laid down in his Chart and Journal to conceal the Discovery; with Remarks upon some extraordinary Affidavits he has published in his Favour. To which is added, A Full Answer to a late Pamphlet published by Capt. Middleton, called Forgery Detected. By Arthur Dobbs, Esq; London: J. Robinson. MDCCLXV. 8vo, (2), 128. J.C.B. 20407

"Arthur Dobbs had prevailed on the Hudson's Bay Company to send an expedition, under command of Captain Middleton, in 1737, to explore for a new passage, but he did little, and was supposed to have been prevented by the Hudson's Bay Company from making any serious efforts. No account of this voyage was published. Dobbs then sent another expedition, commanded by Middleton, in 1741, in a vessel furnished by the Admiralty. He again returned unsuccessful, and was accused, this time, by Dobbs, of having been bribed by the Hudson's Bay Company. In 1746, Ellis was sent, by private subscription, the Dobbs and California, to repeat the search, which only reached Repulse Bay."—BARROW'S Polar Voyages. See Anderson's "Hist. of Commerce," III. 233, and Middleton (Capt.)

DOBBS. Dobbs's Narrative of the unfortunate Voyage and Catastrophe of his Majesty's Ship the Wager, her being cast away on a desolate Island, proceedings of the Crew, &c., in their Boat to Patagonia and through the Straights of Magellan, &c. 1751. 8vo. 20408

Title from Thorpe's catalogue. I have not seen this narrative attributed to Dobbs by any other authority, and incline to the belief that it was a mere conjecture of Mr. Thorpe.

This absurd production purports to be a facsimile of a manuscript in the "Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal à Paris." It is evidently the drawing-book of some clumsy youth, whose genius was certainly not very bright. It is remarkable that the Emperor Napoleon, and the Ministers of State, and not a few so-called savants, should have been beguiled by this publication. It is said to have been suppressed and bought up, and, consequently, commands a large price. The blunder was exposed by J. Petzholdt, in "Das Buch der Wilden," and by J. P. Meissner in "Wahre Erklärung," etc.

The author attempts to prove the authenticity of his previous work by reproducing some inscriptions found on the rocks in New Mexico and Sonora. "These pages are directly addressed to the author of the pamphlet of Dresden, [Petzholdt, Buch der Wilden,] to the 'Augsburgische Zeitung,' to the 'Vossische Zeitung,' to the 'Athenæum,' 'Saturday Review,' 'Notes and Queries,' 'Correspondance Littéraire,' 'Patrie,' 'Indépendance Belge,' and other papers and reviews which have attacked the authenticity of the 'Livre des Sauvages.'" — From the author's Preface.

It is usually followed by "Conditien, Die door de Heeren Burgermeesteren der Stadt Amsterdam, volgens't gemaecte accoort met de West-Indische Compagnie, ende de Approbatie van hare Hog. Sir Francis Drake reuiued: calling vpon this dull or effeminate Age to followe his noble Steps for Golde & Siluer, by this memorable Relation of the rare Occurrances (neuer yet declared to the World) in a third Voyage, made by him into the West Indies, in the Yeares 72 & 73, when Nombre de Dios was by him and 52 others only in his Company, surprised. Faithfully taken out of the Reporte of Mr. Christofer Ceely, Ellis Hixon, and others, who were in the same Voyage with him. By Philip Nichols, Preacher. Reviewed also by Sr. Francis Drake himself before his Death, & much holpen and enlarged, by diuers Notes, with his owne Hand here and there

Concerning the edition of 1628, see Lowndes, page 668–669. It differs from that of 1626 in having had the advantage of the incorporation of the errata of the latter date under the personal superintendence of the nephew of the great voyager. The last four leaves are larger than the rest of the book. I find the following title in a London bookseller's catalogue; it is probably the edition of 1626 and 1628, with a new title-page only:

DRAKE. Sir Francis Drake Revived, &c., by this memorable relation of the rare occurrences (never yet declared to the world), in a third Voyage made by him into the West Indies, in the years 72 and 73 when Nombre de Dios was by him, and 52 others only in his company. Reviewed by Sir F. Drake himself before his death, and much holpen and enlarged by divers notes with his own hand here and there inserted, &c. [n. p. About 1630.] 4to. 20839

And the surprizing of Nombre de dios by | himselfe and two and fifty Men. | His Encompassing the World. | His Voyage made with Christopher Carleill, Martin Frobusher, | Francis Knollis, and others. Their taking the Townes of Saint | Jago, Sancto Domingo Carthagena and Saint Augustine. | His last Voyage (in which he dyed) being accompanied | with Sir John Hawkins, Sir Thomas Baskerfield, Sir Nicholas Clif- | ford, with others. This is followed by three other pieces, viz.: The World Encompassed. 1652. 1 l., pp. 108. A Summarie and True Discourse of Sir Francis Drake's West Indian Voyage. 1652. pp. 41. A Full Relation of another Voyage into the West India. 1652. pp. 43–60. The titles of which form our Nos. 20855, 20843, and 20830. For other editions, see B[urton] (R.), Vol. III., No. 9500, and add, Fourth Edition. London: Nath. Couch. 1695. 18mo, 2 l., pp. 174. DRAKE. A Symmarie and trve Discovrse of Sir Frances Drakes West Indian Voyage. Wherein were taken, the Townes of Saint Iago, Sancto Domingo, Cartagena, and Saint Augustine. With geographically Mappes exactly describing each of the Townes with their Scituations, and the Maner of the Armies approching to the Winning of them: diligently made by Baptista Boazio. London: Roger Ward. 1589. 4to, pp. 37. 20841

The four maps mentioned on the title were not published with this edition, it being simply the announcement of a translation from the title of the original Latin edition, Leyden, 1588. When Field issued the second English edition, he added to some copies the original maps, pasting slips at foot with the English names. But to neither of these editions do the maps rightly belong. The dedication is signed Thomas Cates. The first leaf is blank, except that it has the signature A. It is a volume of great rarity. In the title of some copies the words, "With geographically Mappes," etc., does not appear. The following is another edition:

"Duché's reputation, however, has a less amiable and honorable side; of him it has been written: 'He, whose sublime prayer as Chaplain of the Continental Congress, melted the hearts of his audience every time he bent to repeat it, fell away from his loyalty, and enjoys the sole infamy of having sought to corrupt Washington. While the wretch was praying to Almighty God for the success of the Revolution, his heart was black with treason!'" — TUCKERMAN'S America, p. 81.

Dummer was also the author of several disquisitions in the Latin language, which are included in the Prince collection in the Boston Public Library. A pamphlet, entitled "Considerations on behalf of the Colonists ... 1765," has been attributed to Dummer, but is more probably by Otis. Dummer was an American scholar of brilliant genius, and possessed of remarkable powers in speaking and writing. He was born in Boston about 1680, and died in England in 1739. He spent a long time abroad, where he was at one time the agent for Massachusetts. Tudor remarks: "In point of style or argument Dummer may vie with any American writer before the Revolution." — Life of Otis, Chap. vi. See also "M. Rev.," xxxiv. 64.
